Great Southwest Home Show Returns to Tulsa's Expo Square

Tulsa, OK – April 27, 2010. The Great Southwest Home Show began in Tulsa last year at the QuikTrip Center. This year the show runs from April 29 to May 1. It returns this year as a showcase for manufactured homes and service providers. Exhibitors and dealers will attend the show from around the southwest including Texas, Kansas, Mississippi and even Alabama. On Wednesday, April 28, there will be a special pre-show VIP and media tour at 3:00 P.M.

Doug Gorman, owner of Homemart, a Tulsa-based manufactured housing retailer serves as chairman of the show. "This show was a remarkable success last year due to our central location in the Southwest and I'm confident this year will be even better," said Gorman.

This year's show has one major difference from that of last year. The show will be open to the public on Friday, April 30 and Saturday, May 1. "After last year's turnout, we felt this show would be prime for public consumption. It is much like auto shows that display and showcase the latest and most modern technology," Gorman said.

The Great Southwest Home Show is being held in conjunction a meeting of the Manufactured Housing Consensus Committee, a national group organized by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. In addition, the Oklahoma Manufactured Home Association is being held at the same time at the Hard Rock Hotel and Casino.
