eric@homemart.us

While born in Los Angeles, I was raised in Tulsa, and with my wife, Delores, we decided to raise our three beautiful girls in this community. I love College football (Go! Sooners) and computers, but I mostly love hanging out with my family.

Home-Mart's philosophy empowers me to take the time to really understand what you are looking for in a home. My eight years experience selling manufactured homes provides a wealth of knowledge and workable solutions to assist you in your quest for a home. Buying a home is like solving a puzzle-let me help you put your dream together.
